What Career are you in, and what sort of things does this entail?

I am a student at the University of Chester studying a combined honors degree in Sociology & Criminology, hoping to eventually teach both subjects at secondary school.

What inspired you to go into your chosen career?

I left sixth form and started a teaching assistant apprenticeship at the school, working within Connect with Di Jackson. This role encouraged me to carry on with my aspirations of working within a school.

What advice would you give to anyone interested in working in your career area?

Always jump at opportunities offered and always put 100% into your work/studies - it may seem hard now but it will pay off one day.

What do you know now, that you wish you'd known when you were leaving Malbank?
