

Raymond Harding, 1995

What Career are you in, and what sort of things does this entail?

I'm a Dairy Herd Manager. I'm charge of the day to day running of the farm. I have a team of staff who work below milking 450 cows which I oversee daily liaising with vets, feed supplier's, contractors. Making sure the animals are looked after correctly and jobs are done to a high standard all paperwork that comes with a busy dairy farm.

What inspired you to go into your chosen career?

What advice would you give to anyone interested in working in your career area?

Be prepared for long hours and hard work. Farming isn't easy but it's very rewarding. I love what I do and wouldn't do anything else.

What do you know now, that you wish you'd known when you were leaving Malbank?

Honestly I wish I'd worked at school instead of messing around. Remember guys your education is vital don't mess it up!
